REPORT OF NATIONAL COUNCIL

On behalf of the National Council, I am pleased to welcome you to the PPAG 2023 Annual report. It is undeniable that the past year presented a period of significant transformation process in positioning the Association towards future sustainable status, in the face of unprecedented challenges. Despite the challenges, I would like to take this opportunity to highlight some of the key milestones and outline our strategic vision for the future.

In 2023, PPAG delivered robust financial results, achieving a 19% increase in total Income and 38% increase in the liquidity position at a time when most institutions are posting negative growth.

These figures are a testament to the hard-work of the leadership and members and the dedication of our talented team. Our cost management initiatives and operational efficiencies have positioned us well to sustain this momentum by instilling confidence in our donors. We have made substantial progress in our strategic initiatives aimed at driving long-term goals by: piloting and expanding person-centered services, use of digital platforms in SRHR services and Ensuring sustainability by advancing the construction of a specialized health facility in Cape Coast and investing in our staff through trainings.

Under governance and leadership, our commitment to strong corporate governance remains unwavering as we continue to provide the needed leadership in driving change through the development of a new strategic plan (2023-2028).

We continue to prioritize diversity and inclusion of young people and women at all decision-making levels, ensuring that our leadership team reflects a wide range of perspectives and experiences. These initiatives resulted in the recognition of our brand efforts by the Chartered Institute of Marketing Ghana (CIMG) for 2 years running among others. We look to the future with optimism and we are excited about the opportunities that lie ahead of us.

Our strategic focus therefore will be on:

- Enhancing the PPAG brand positioning and visibility in the SRHR and corporate space.
- Improving our client experience through digital transformation.
- Expanding our product portfolio to meet emerging market needs and competition; Strengthening our position as a leader in the NGO SRHR sector.
- Positioning PPAG as an employer of choice.

Finally, I want to extend my gratitude to our stakeholders and partners for your continued trust and support. Your confidence in our vision and strategy is what drives us to achieve excellence. I would also like to thank our employees for their hard work and dedication, which are the cornerstones of our success. We look forward to another year of growth and achievement.

MESSAGE FROM OUR EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Partners and Friends of PPAG, I am delighted to share with you the highlights of our achievements and progress over the past programmatic year of impacting the Ghanaian populace with knowledge, information, skills and services in the area of Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights. Through the year, there were challenges but the opportunities seemed to outweigh them. I am proud to have played an integral role in what the Association together with its partners, volunteers and staff have accomplished. Our focus on improving the quality of health of the vulnerable Ghanaian through provision of reproductive healthcare access, community outreaches, livelihood skills development among many others have yielded tangible results.

Against all odds, our commitment to our mission has remained unwavering. We have expanded our reach and impact, touching the lives of more young people, people living with disability, people living with HIV, and in marginalised communities, individuals and families in need of quality sexual and reproductive health and rights information and services.

I am particularly excited about PPAG being adjudged the CIMG Non-For-Profit Organisation of the years 2021 and 2022.

This accomplishment reflects our dedication to making a positive difference in the Ghanaian communities we serve. None of this would have been possible without the dedication of our talented team and the support of our donors, volunteers, and partners.

Your contributions and collaboration have been instrumental in driving our success.

Looking ahead, we are focused on building upon our achievements and exploring new ways to further our mission. We will continue to innovate and adapt to meet the evolving needs of those who rely on our services across the length and breadth of Ghana.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to each one of you for your continued believe in our vision and for standing alongside us in our journey towards a healthier Ghanaian population. We forge on to break barriers and lift off the covers to gender equality with equity, period friendly world, investing in women and girls to accelerate progress, planned and healthier families.

PPAG'S THEMATIC AREAS AND STRATEGIES

PPAG's thematic/focus areas are tailored towards that of the IPPF. These thematic areas include but not limited to:

Gender Equality and inclusivity

Advocacy

Person-Centred Care

Contraception and pregnancy options

Gender Sensitive/ Transformative programming

Successes are chalked in these thematic areas using strategies such as advocacy & activism, capacity building, collaboration and networking, and media engagement.

Our advocacies among many others seek to ensure that government commits to and implements Global, Regional and National Policies, Protocols and Commitments on SRHR.

PPAG's advocacy focus areas include Reproductive Health Education, Gender Equality and Rights, Family Planning, Sexual and Gender-Based Violence and Pregnancy options.

We also employ strategies such as Meaningful Youth Participation (MYP) by engaging young people structurally in all levels and all phases of our programming and all levels of decision making.

For PPAG, MYP means engaging young people structurally in all levels and all phases of the programme and decision-making with a thirty (30) percent youth representation on PPAG's Governing Council.

Meaningful, Inclusive & Youth Participation entails securing the right to participation for all young people, including marginalized communities who often face the most barriers to SRHR.

This principle is also central to the 'leaving no one behind' mantra of the 2030 Agenda. Human-Centered Design (HCD) is another innovative strategy to problem-solving that emphasizes starting with the needs of the people being served to increase the uptake of youth-centered SRH services. HCD also strengthens available support, knowledge, and expertise. With our service delivery strategy, PPAG delivers people centered care through over one thousand service points, including 11 permanent clinics, 54 mobile clinics and over 1,000 community-based service points (CBSs). Digital Health Intervention and Self-care are other strategies that PPAG employs to increase reach through effective referral linkage and services and expect access across the country.

PPAG, in response to the COVID-19 established a multichannel digital contact Centre called the YENKASA CONTACT CENTER (0800202010) to serve as a central hub for the delivery of quality remote SRHR information and referral for services delivery across the country. YENKASA represents a global shift from physical interactions to virtual and digital solutions, making PPAG more accessible to our clients; providing timely information, education and referrals.

Our Gender Transformative Approach (GTA) examines, questions and challenges harmful gender norms and power imbalances. It examines how such norms intersect with other social factors and identities to create inequalities (and privileges) and how they obstruct or facilitate access to SRHR information, education and services and sustain harmful practices.

GTA contributes directly to gender justice and is therefore one of the key approaches within the Centers of Excellence programme of PPAG. GTA facilitates the empowerment of adolescent girls and sexually and gender-diverse groups and engages boys and men as gendered beings who can be part of the solution, but also have their own specific SRHR needs and vulnerabilities.

Finally, the concept of Leading from Behind is designed to enable PPAG to identify and engage critical and influential public agencies, academic institutions, individuals and other influencers to lead various advocacy and public policy engagement actions to use their voices and spaces to neutralize the actions of the opposition to CSE and SRHR in Ghana.

The concept works through the engagement of the top leadership of agencies or institutions to discuss the implications of inaction towards the opposition forces on national development, particularly emphasizing the possible role back of gains made in reducing unwanted/adolescent pregnancy, HIV and STI infections, gender-based violence amongst others and solicit the support of these agencies that are duty bearers by their mandate, to rise to neutralize the opposition.

PROGRAMME REPORT FOR 2023

This report covers projects and activities that the Association implemented from January 1st to December 31st 2023.

Projects implemented during the period were aligned to the four-pillars of the IPPF strategic framework—Centre Care on People, Move the sexuality Agenda, Solidarity for Change and Nurture our Federation. PPAG's programmes are also guided by thematic areas such as gender equality and inclusivity, advocacy, persons centered care among others.

1. Centre Care on People

This is the Pillar that ensures that we provide quality person- centered care to more people, in more places. Through the following projects, we deliver SRHR Services such as STI testing and management, pregnancy options and contraception and SGBV Services to all, including young people and persons who are most marginalised and excluded.

These projects expand choice, widen access and advance digital and self-care. Two projects were implemented under this Pillar: Providing Quality Integrated Package of Essential Services Project (PROVIDE) and Strengthening HIV/AIDS Prevention and Care among Vulnerable, Marginalised and Excluded Groups (SHIP) Project.

Under the PROVIDE Project, service delivery points beyond static clinics included community outreaches, digital health initiatives, Associate clinics (both Government and Private and Social Franchised facilities), and Community-Based Distribution Agents (CBAs). Specialized outreaches were organized specifically for social minorities and vulnerable groups, such as prisoners, commercial sex workers (CSWs), and other marginalized populations. Demand creation activities included radio programs, open days, campus visits, and commemorative days, which facilitated referrals to clinics.

The SHIP Project targeted vulnerable groups in confined locations such as prison inmates in four prisons (Accra Senior Correctional Centre, Kumasi Main, Ankaful Cape Coast, and Takoradi Prisons) with peer educators guiding colleagues to access HIV services. Additional activities encompassed home visits, virtual support for PLHIV groups, outreach activities, and online psychosocial support, with collaborations with the Ghana Health Service enabling outreach services in border areas like Aflao.

delivery points in the country.

services were provided to

1,562,719

services were enabled through the partner facilities and Community-Based Distribution agents.

2. Move the Sexuality Agenda

Under this Pillar, we act with Youth to push for societal and legislative change for SRH rights. This is the core of PPAG's Youth Programming that implements projects to shape opinions, inform policies and challenge toxic norms, towards a more inclusive society. The Reproductive Health Education (RHED) Project seeks to advance advocacy for the development, approval, and adoption of Reproductive Health Education (RHE) guidelines for young people in Ghana.

Courtesy calls and review of RHED advocacy interventions were also undertaken. Through the project, PPAG actively contributed to the efforts for the removal of taxes on sanitary pads through a series of strategies activities as part of the CSOs Platform for Menstrual Hygiene.

The outcomes of this project strengthened partnerships with CSOs, facilitated stakeholder engagement, and synchronized advocacy efforts with the National Population Council, leading to a unified approach in promoting RHE.

Under the Contributing to Global Advocacy and Accountability on SRHR (GAA-SRHR) Project, our objective was to influence policy commitments on SRHR made by the Ghanaian government at regional and global levels. Key achievements include contributing to the successful advocacy for the removal of taxes on sanitary pads and engaging stakeholders like the Ministry of Finance and Ghana Revenue Authority to promote local production of sanitary pads. Additionally, PPAG intensified menstrual hygiene education through radio discussions and social media campaigns.

During international meetings, we participated in key events such as the FP2030 Regional Hub meeting in Uganda, which focused on mutual accountability, sharing best practices, and strengthening country action plans, and the RSFU Learning 4 Change (L4C) network meetings, where we discussed issues on sexuality and non-discrimination in Bangkok and comprehensive sexuality education (CSE) in Stockholm. The outcomes of these meetings provided platforms for sharing experiences and best practices, helping to inform PPAG's strategies and actions in promoting SRHR in Ghana.

The Power to Choose Project is funded by OXFAM Quebec. It is being implemented in Ghana by PPAG and four other local NGOs. The project has an overall goal of contributing to the enjoyment of health-related human rights for young girls and adolescent girls who live in vulnerable conditions.

The in-school activities were carried out through the SRHR clubs as well as community-level education, Breaking the Silence forums, Inter-generational dialogues, and advocacy dialogues. Others were the International Day of the Girl Child, International Women's Day, and World Menstrual Hygiene Day.

PARTICIPANTS AT 2023 PPAG/ OXFAM IWD

The Star Girl Project, a community-based initiative aimed at empowering and educating adolescent girls, embarked on a strategic partnership with several schools in the Cape Coast Metropolis, Ghana. The collaborative effort involves a comprehensive programme that spans across educational institutions, health facilities, and community engagement.

The Star Girl Project is a transformative initiative rooted in the vibrant Cape Coast Metropolis, driven by an unwavering mission to uplift and enhance the sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) of 10,000 young girls by the year 2025.

At its core, this project recognizes the pivotal role that access to comprehensive SRHR education, information, and services plays in shaping the future of our young girls, empowering them to make informed choices about their sexual and reproductive health.

3. Solidarity for Change

PPAG has forged strong alliances and partnerships to unleash the power of change that exists in solidarity. The Repositioning for visibility and growth project is one with a quest to activate a PPAG brand that appeals to a greater number of people. The project goal is to reposition PPAG to stimulate visibility and growth and to impact more in the SRHR space. PPAG for the second time running won the CIMG Marketing Oriented Not- for-Profit Organization in Ghana 2021 and 2022.

Through our Repositioning for Visibility and Growth project and the Global study of male contraceptive methods and behaviors, PPAG has supported social movements, shared knowledge and built strategic partnerships with like-minded CSOs such as the Alliance for Women in Media (AWMA), influential individuals and allies to tackle the root causes of SRHR problems. These efforts have been duly rewarded.

The global study of male contraceptive methods and behaviors aimed to understand men’s behaviors regarding reproduction and contraception, which is a crucial aspect of contemporary research.

This research delved into aspects such as existing contraceptive usage, decision-making processes, healthcare engagement, and prevailing gender norms to provide context to male willingness to adopt new contraceptives, unveil cultural shifts required for increased male participation in preventing pregnancies, and evaluate the resulting impact on gender equality and preventive healthcare. Some successes achieved include the renewal of ethical licenses, nationwide capacity enhancement, collaboration with WHO and IPPF Global teams, and the establishment of an efficient data management system.

4. Nurture Our Federation

PPAG continues to replenish and nurture herself to make more impact, abiding by our values of team- spiritedness, volunteerism, confidentiality, gender sensitive and transformative programming, youth-friendliness and being result oriented. PPAG mobilized resources through two pathways: The Social Enterprise Acceleration and the Expanding PPAG Resource Base for Financial Sustainability Programs. PPAG's social enterprise acceleration program is run as PHCT Services Limited and was done through intensive demand generation activities. Through client visits, exhibitions and social media advertisements, and boosting the unit gained a reach of 24,048 engagements out of which GHS333,188.00 being 44% increase over the 2022 performance was realized as income.

Expanding PPAG Resources Base for Financial Sustainability through Resource Mobilization aims to position PPAG to attract funding and create partnerships to address the growing challenges for organizational sustainability as the donor environment continues to experience dwindling funding. With this, PPAG continues to equip its clinics to improve upon its revenue generation. In the year under review, an amount of GHS1,371,126.00 being 41% increase over the 2022 performance was realized as an income from the clinics. A number of proposals were also developed in response to calls for proposals out of which PPAG received approval to implement the AMAZE project. The project aims at disseminating SHR information through digital means. Overall, PPAG's donor funding for the year increased by 63% over the previous year (2022).

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

We have audited the financial statements of Planned Parenthood Association of Ghana, which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2023 and the statement of income and expenditure, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies as set out on pages 9 to 40.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements of Planned Parenthood Association of Ghana present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the association as at December 31, 2023, its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standard (IFRS) and in the manner required by the Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report.

We are independent of the association in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) (the Code) issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code) and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Matter

The financial statements of the company for the year ended 31st December 2022 were audited by another auditor, PKF Chartered Accountants who expressed an unmodified opinion on those financial statements.

Other Information

The council members are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Responsibilities of Council Members for the Financial Statements

The council members are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standard and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the council members are responsible for assessing the association's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the council members either intend to liquidate the association or cease operations or has no realistic alternative but to do so. The council members are responsible for overseeing the association's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the planning and performance of the audit.

We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the association's ability to continue as a going concern.

If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion.

Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the association to cease to continue as a going concern.

•Evaluate the overall presentation structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

The Companies Act, 2019 (Act 992) requires that in carrying out our audit work we consider and report on the following matters.

We confirm that:

• We have obtained all the information and explanations which to the best of our knowledge and belief were necessary for the purposes of the audit;

• In our opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the association, so far as appears from the examination of those books;

•The association's financial statements are in agreement with the books of account and returns.
